W. H. TAFT NOW PRESIDENT OF THESE UNITED STATES.

Washington Overrun With People.

Timodore Roosevelt Once More a Private Citizen, Leaves For Oyster Bay.

[By United Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 4.—William Howard Taft, of Ohio, today became the 27th President, James Schoolcraft Sherman, of New York, Vice-President.

President Taft was worn in with all the splendor and pomp which has become customary upon the inaugural occasion. It is said that ten acres of eager eyes, busy lips and bobbing head-gear were spread out before the platform on which the ceremonies took place.

The first to appear upon the scene were the Justices of the Supreme Court, followed shortly after by President and President-elect, arm in arm. The Diplomatic Corps took their places, then the Ministers of the Charge d'Affairs, the Secretaries, Attachés both Military and Naval, and all the other dignitaries. Next came Vice President Sherman; the Senators; Speaker Cannon and the Members of the House; Heads of the Departments of the Government; Governors of the States; Admiral Dewey, at the head of the Navy; Major-General Bell, Chief of the Staff of the Army, and lastly the invited guests.

A silence fell and Chief Justice Fuller arose, meeting the President-elect who advanced half way and repeats slowly after the Chief Justice these words:

"Do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the office of resident of the United States, and I will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

The word is flashed over the world, mansions burst forth, bands play and the names wave and shout themselves home. Such is the scene in front of the National Capital.

It is now the hour for luncheon. After this the President reviews the great parade one of the most spectacular in the history of the world.

The cadets from West Point and Annapolis marching like magnificent pieces of clockwork; the 3,000 blue jackies of the fleet, fresh from their cruise around the world; the splendid Regulars on foot and horseback; the heavy artillery, with their thundering field guns; the batteries of mountain artillery, with their funny little mules each carrying a gun on his back; the White Horse cavalry band, every trooper of the bunch playing like a wizard; the crack National Guard regiments from New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio and other States; the Governor and their staffs; and last, but by no means least, the famous Constabulary Band from the far-off Philippines, which had made the long journey from the Orient to see their old Governor General elevated to the highest office in the land of their new allegiance.

There were political clubs, too. The American Club from Pittsburgh, which has attended every inauguration of a Republican President since goodness knows when, carried red, white and blue umbrellas along the line; the Virginia Fox Hunters, who turned out for the first time in honor of President Taft because he had sojourned so long at Hot Springs; and the "Bill Possum" Club from Florida set the crowds to laughing.

Except for their love of honesty, square dealing and patriotism—and their common sense—Taft and Roosevelt were as far apart as the northern and the southern poles.

President Taft, from his long years on the bench, has learned to weigh well his words and shape his decisions from all the evidence obtainable; Ex-President Roosevelt weighs his words not at all, and his actions spring from his heart regardless of evidence. President Taft is patient; Ex-President Roosevelt scarcely knows the meaning of the word. President Taft is deliberate; Ex-President Roosevelt is impulsive. President Taft exercises at golf or on horseback to keep down his weight; Ex-President Roosevelt rides, runs, shoots, boxes, wrestles, fences, or plays tennis to down the other fellow, or for the love of the sport itself. President Taft was graduated at Yale; Ex-President Roosevelt hails from Harvard. President Taft tips the beam at 300 pounds; Ex-President Roosevelt weighs 130 less.

Mr. Taft is the biggest President, physically, out eighth and outmeasuring the late President Cleveland, the next in size, by several pounds and inches. He may also lay claim to the largest acquaintance of any President, either at the outset or end of his administration, for he is known in every State in the Union and every civilized country in the world. He is the only President that ever girded the earth before taking office, and the only one that ever governed an insular possession of the United States of America.

The cool wave wafted down last night made the atmosphere bracing today. The North is a sheet of ice, as this wind testifies.

BIG TENT
IS POPULAR.

The Park Dramatic and Musical Company played last night to a crowded house, the dramatization of that thrilling love story Thelma, by Marie Corrille.

The parts were all well taken, so uniformly well rendered were they, in fact, that it would be difficult to bestow praise on one more than another, but Brett, the maid, with her excellent Norwegian dialect, seemed to appeal particularly to the audience and received a large share of applause.

The company is a strong one and the varied and beautiful scenery employed in the performances adds to the charm. At the matinee this afternoon they will play "Tempest and Sunshine," tonight, "The American Girl" and Friday night, "Camille." There will also be a performance Friday afternoon; title not yet announced. Go early if you desire to select a seat.

Arthur Boal, of Urbana, Ohio, spent the last few days with friends at the Parkinson House. Mr. Boal travels for a Chicago wholesale grocery house and came to Daytona over Sunday from Jacksonville where he was calling on his trade

LAMPS, NOT RAZORS, IN AIR

Up at the DuPont mill last night a couple of young negro men became involved in a war of words, all because of the fascinations of an ebony-hued miss whose hand each was a suitor. There was no 'cum seben, cum leben' in it, no gressey cards stacked, no loaded cubes, no rattle of 2-bit pieces—it was all about fair Juliet.

In the heat of the controversy—this is not written from an interview with the injured, it's a stereotyped story, which applies in thousands of similar cases—a hot-blooded African grabs a lighted lamp and lets drive, landing over the hot optic of his rival and inflicting ugly, if not dangerous, wounds.

Fortunately, the flame was extinguished before it shivered into fragments in the face of the negro, for the oil covered the clothing of the victim, and he would have been burned then and there.

The injured man, left eye closed and face and neck badly cut and smelling of Standard oil, was brought down to the Dayton Hospital on the afternoon midnight train, where expert treatment and the best attention will, in all probability, soon bring him around all right.

The assailant, after downing his adversary, took to his heels and made his escape and so far has not been heard from.

New League Organized.

A meeting was held in the Social Hall of the Congregational church, Saturday afternoon, at which a local chapter of the American Woman's League was formed, by the organizers Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wilkinson. The following officers were selected by ballot:

President—Mrs. Abbott.

Secretary—Mrs. I. M. Babette.

Treasurer—Mrs. S. Mills.

The members have entered into work of the Chapter with much enthusiasm and expect to be able to be the owners of a beautiful Chapter House for the use of Cherokee Woman's League. Com.

Geo. A. Carleton, of Ormond, was a Daytona visitor today and made a pleasant call at the office of the Daily News.

VOTES ARE COMING FAST IN THE PIANO CONTEST.

Several Changes in Standing—

One New Candidate, And

Some Surprises.

The count of Tuesday evening in the Bush & Safford Piano Contest showed a large vote, a new candidate, some other surprises, and several changes in standing, both in and outside of Daytona.

In Daytona the High School goes ahead at about the same rate, the Rifles, make nearly as large votes and are still very much in the contest. The Eastern Stars keeps plugging along with fairly large votes, and the Elks claimed the banner vote of all, making a net gain of nearly 92,000 on the Eastern Star, their nearest rival.

The other candidates had about the usual vote. Miss McCann passed Miss Mary Gille, and a new candidate, Miss Ruby Sullivan, received her first vote, 975, and enough to put her at one jump ahead of the Daytona Institute and Mrs. F. L. Middleton.

Outside of Daytona the vote was of the usual size, with the exception of the Seabreeze High School, which had probably the largest number of votes that school has ever had at one count. This vote was over $80,000, and put the Seabreeze High School ahead of the Kingman school, and in second place, only a little over a 100,000 behind Wilmar's opera house, which also has a fairly large vote.

Miss Sallie Ho land passed Miss Jennie Murray, and the Blake school passed several candidates, putting that institution of learning right behind Miss Riley Spaulding.

This week comes the Osterling Street Carnival Company and Madame Calve, the greatest singer in the world, who will be Wilmar's opera house.

The pupils of the Daytona High School are holding daily rehearsals at the Daytona opera house of the play that they will produce some time this month.

Not After Seeing Daytona.

Mrs. Charles Spaulding and Mrs. William Gutknecht, of Milwaukee, Wis., who have been the guests of Mrs. Albert Hoag the past two weeks, left this morning for a visit to points on the East Coast. Mrs. Gutknecht expressed herself as being delighted with her first visit here, and will invest in a winter home next season.—St. Petersburg Independent.

AT THE PLACE

Where Volusia Meets Beach.

STILL MUCH AMUSEMENT.

Every week something in the amusement line turns up to keep the tourists' mind off magazines, thoughts of cold at home, and bridge whist.

Last week the Maryland Amusement Company, street carnival, gave pretty good satisfaction, took some money away, and left some of it here in the treasury of the Daytona City Band, having come here for the benefit of that organization. The carnival carried a seven-piece Italian band, and while not exactly a "Royal" band, the few men in it, dressed in red and white by the way, made a fair amount of music, and a great amount of noise. They worked longer each day than union hours too.

This week a merry-go-round has come for an indefinite sojourn, being placed on the parkage near the city hall, the Gator and Crystal theatres each have good bills and at the latter place the Misses Jester are making a hit. The C. W. Park Dramatic Company, under canvas, are playing a week stand on the Volusia avenue lot and are playing to good houses, given even better satisfaction than they did last year.

Next week comes the Osterling Street Carnival Company and Madame Calve, the greatest singer in the world, who will be Wilmar's opera house.

The pupils of the Daytona High School are holding daily rehearsals at the Daytona opera house of the play that they will produce some time this month.

The attorneys of the Board were ordered to render a written opinion as to the legality of the petition at the same meeting.

It was ordered that W. C. Cannons be paid $6,500 on account of balance due him on DeLand-Daytona road.

MARY GARDEN IN THE ROLE OF SALOME.

The sensational feature of the theatrical season in New York is the production of the Strauss-Wilde opera at the Manhattan Opera House. Miss Mary Garden, who won such success in the various French operas, appeared as Salome, and the performance attracted more attention in the newspapers than anything of its kind had in many years. Thousands were turned away from the theater on the second night of the production.

The Modern
Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sand; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls fit in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellicid Halifax River.
Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottage, with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed picanian perch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk straggling upward with his floundering load is snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crooks, eyes, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with ethereal drapes, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage, the entire city becomes a great park.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and prickled ears.

For every visitor with a space "goob-er" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting fancy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. In one yard roses of variegated hues predominate, another has a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane.

The birds fit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes.

Cleared His Doubts.

A well known English gentleman engaged a tall and powerful hil-lander to act as gamekeeper on his estate. Having been a considerable time at his post and not having caught any poachers, the gentleman suspected his gamekeeper of carelessness. So one dark night he disguised himself and went out with a gun to poach on his own ground. He had fired only one or two shots when he was suddenly pounced upon from behind and his gun wrenched away. Then kicks and blows were showered upon him until he fell down half insensible.

The Highlander then walked away quietly, and when the gentleman recovered sufficiently he crawled home and took to his bed for two weeks.

He has now no doubts as to whether the man can perform his duty or not.

Flowers are the sweetest things that God ever made and forgot to put

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.

Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season.
Autos the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells.
It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

Will Sing and Dance at Crystal.

Those who have not seen the little soubrette, Miss Ethel Talbot, who is at the Crystal Theater this week, should not fail to attend the show before she ends her engagement there. She is one of the best singing and dancing soubrettes ever seen in Daytona and her movements on the stage are the acme of grace and precision, while some of her fancy steps are beautiful. Not only is she a little lady, who is not out of her teens, a fine dancer, but she has a marvelous voice which carries to the farthest end of the large hall and her singing of late and popular songs is one of the main features of her act.

HER MISTAKE.

The Way It Was Explained to Her by the Clumsy Man.

Owing to the fact that the car lurched suddenly as he was passing through the aisle Bronson was deprived of his balance, with the result that in attempting to save himself from falling he clutched one of the shoulders of a handsome woman who had succeeded in getting a seat. Moreover, he knocked her beautiful hat awry and with great difficulty avoided stepping on her toes. As he succeeded in recovering his equilibrium the lady turned toward him and said:

"You contemptible pup! I wish you understand that I am not a lamp-post or a piece of furniture to be clung to for support. You ought to ride in a cattle train. You have no right to crowd in where you can tear other people to pieces with your big, awkward hands. You pitiful clown, You ought to be thrown out into the street. You are not fit to be allowed to go where you are likely to interfere with the comfort of refined people.
You unumannerly bumpkin! You deserve to be!"

"Excuse me, madam," Bronson managed to say, "you have made a mistake."

"A mistake?" the lady demanded.
her eyes flashing with wrath. "What do you mean?"

"I am not your husband."—Chicago

CHINESE METHODS.

Why a Street, Newly Paved, Was Torn Up by Official Order.

M. Monnier, the French Asiatic traveler, vouched for the truth of the following story if how his friend, Hop Sing, a man of means and refinement, was on one occasion sorely victimized. Hop Sing lived in the street of the roasted corn, as unsavory and as ill paved a street as any in all Pekin. The local mandarin was an intimate friend of his, and Hop Sing availed himself of this friendship to press the mandarin to have the street repaved. Certainly, at once. The men would be at work on it before Hop Sing could get back home. A week passed, then another visit, and so on until, in despair, Hop Sing determined to have the street repaired at his own expense. The work was satisfactorily completed.

The surprise of Hop Sing was only equalled by his indignation when on awakening one morning he found a gang of coolies upheaving the newly flagged street. His surprise grew when he heard from the mandarin's own lips that the men were there at his orders.

"You see, my dear friend," said the mandarin, "I am expecting the head inspector around here in a few days. Now, if he were to see the beautiful pavement you have laid down in your street he would come to the conclusion that there was money about, and he would assuredly bleed every vein in my body. This would mean my ruin. Don't you see why your pavement really must come up? It cost me one fortune to secure my post. I don't want to spend another in keeping it."

THE CLERMONT.

First Passage by Steamboat From New York to Albany.

In August, 1808—the exact day is a matter of dispute—the steamboat Clermont made the first passage by steam from New York to Albany. The distance, somewhat less than 150 miles, was covered in thirty-two hours, a record haled as a triumph in speed, for previously the passage between the two cities averaged four days.

Robert Fulton had experimented with steam several years, but the Clermont was the first boat he constructed on a large scale. As he could not get the engine he wanted in this country he ordered one from England. The Clermont was so reconstructed in the following winter that it gave more commodious accommodations to travelers, and the year 1808, which was the first year of regular travel by steamboat, Fulton made it a point to start his boat precisely on scheduled time. Curiously enough, a portion of the public complained of this. It was not until well along in the summer that travelers got accustomed to it. Previously boats had been held for two hours at the request of passengers who weren't ready. Fulton's perseverance won public approval before the season closed.—Anaconda Standard.

How to Make a Cup of Cocoa. Take a tablespoonful of cocoa and put it in a tin cup. Add one teaspoonful of granulated sugar and one tablespoonful of boiling water. Mix well, so that there will not be any lumps of cocoa. Pour a little less than one-half pint of milk into a saucepan and cook it, stirring all the time, until it is scalded—that is, until a film forms on it and it begins to bubble a little. Stir the cocoa mixture into this and cook until it boils up.—DeLineator.

Taking an Advantage.

"Your family seem to enjoy going to Europe."

"Yes," answered Mr. Cumson. "Mother and the girls have observed that I am weak on getting the value of foreign money. Things are ordered and paid for before I have time to make any intelligent inquiries as to the expense."—Washington Star.
